EDITORIAL PROFILE

Minnesota Physician is an independent, controlled circulation, medical journal with a monthly circulation of 17,000 copies. We publish reports on the business of medicine and are not affiliated with any national, state or county medical society or association. This independence allows us the unique opportunity to present sensitive topics from a candid and unbiased perspective.

Each issue contains several regular departments: capsules (news briefs) a colleague interview, and a special focus. There are regular reports on many other recurring topics such as ethics, research and policy. See our editorial calendar on page 7.

Minnesota Physician is written by physicians for physicians. Our editorial board is in constant contact with local, regional and national experts in untiring dedication to providing the most outstanding possible content.

CIRCULATION

Minnesota Physician is mailed to every physician licensed to practice in, and living in, Minnesota. We publish 17,000 copies each month. We closely monitor licensing data from the Minnesota Board of Medical Practice to maintain accurate and timely circulation. In addition to physicians, hospital and clinic administrators also receive the publication. We provide our advertisers the most extensive medical business mailing list in the state. Included on this business list are the CEOs and administrative executives from every major healthcare delivery organization in Minnesota. Annual subscriptions are available for $48.

DEMOGRAPHICS

Advertising in Minnesota Physician produces results! We offer effective penetration into a desirable and difficult-to-reach readership. Minnesota Physician is supported 100% by advertising; state, county, specialty society or association dues do not fund any portion of our operation. Therefore, Minnesota Physician must be a successful marketing tool, and our advertisers report outstanding results. Through use of top-quality graphics and meaningful editorial content, we provide an environment where your ad is seen and read with enthusiasm. If any portion of your business comes from physicians or their working environments, advertising in Minnesota Physician is your most cost-effective marketing strategy.
